

DISTANCE LEARNING

2.0

Community Feedback

Why a survey?

1. Distance learning is a unique collaboration between teachers and parents.
2. Essentially, we are all working together in one classroom and share the load and responsibility during distance learning.
3. It is very difficult to manage current demands of work, family life, chores, cooking, health and safety during a pandemic, social emotional connection, AND distance learning.

Organization of 2.0.

Thank you to those who attended the summer Town Hall meetings and contributed to the community feedback about distance learning 1.0.

We heard from you that: Too many links, Confusing for students and parents, Need one place to go, Consistent links per grade level

Overall, people really wanted something that they could print out like a schedule for fridge.

Our response was Launchpad.

Launchpad 67% use.

As a communication tool we set up the Launchpad. Do you access and use to help with the organization of distance learning? Como herramient... con la organización del aprendizaje a distancia?

Got Waldorf?

It was clear to me that as we continue with distance learning, one of the main aspects of our school needed to continue to be a priority. We continue to commit to offering a top tier Specialty program to students.

Music, handwork and movement continue to be offerings that set us apart from other traditional schools.

Teacher professional training and integration of Waldorf practices continue to be a main attraction for parents interested in a school of choice.

We embrace technology as a tool and want to help students how to best use the tool in order to be better prepared for 21st century skills.

77% Excellent or good.

How is the feeling overall?

Generally speaking how is the community feel about DL 2.0?

Looking back provided some great 20/20 hindsight.

Looking forward we continue to strive to be better.

The pandemic, country unrest, election, coupled with distance learning, travel restrictions, and a host of other stresses have all really taken a toll on us.

Parents are being adaptable and flexible; demonstrating and leading by example for their children.

Overall how is distance learning going for you as a parent? En general, ¿cómo va el aprendizaje a distancia para usted como padre?

123 responses

- Much better than expected / Mucho mejor de lo esperado
- Better than expected / Mejor de lo esperado
- About what I expected / Sobre lo que esperaba
- Not as good as expected / No tan buena como se esperaba
- Worse than expected / Peor de lo esperado

How are students doing?

The students really have been making the biggest adjustments due to distance learning more than any other sub-group.

This has been especially challenging for Live Oak students because we are a school community that prioritizes relationships among students and teachers and develop those relationships over time due to our looping cycle.

In the end, I acknowledge that our students are learning valuable lessons in: perseverance, grit, determination, organization, flexibility, and adaptability.

Right tools for the job.

The teachers did an exceptional job in setting the stage for distance learning 2.0.

Many hours were spent during the teachers' summer in order to prepare for the Fall.

The Admin crew in the office spent time thinking about and creating new systems to help with the ease and transition from in-person learning to distance learning.

Some major obstacles back then (fall) remain today: budget constraints, pandemic,

Home run.

Workload and time

Three areas that we look at when we create our distance learning program:

1. Content relevance: Maintaining fidelity to the grade level content and experience.
2. Adequate rigor: Keeping up the rigor of lessons and learning while also being understanding and flexible.
3. Student engagement: Provide multiple opportunities for students to participate in and engage with the learning, the content, and the teachers/peers.
